It also applies with respect to the Premium TPATS Inc. website, as well as all websites controlled and maintained by Premium TPATS Inc.

It applies to all types of personal information managed by Premium TPATS Inc., whether it be information about its clients, potential or actual clients, consultants, employees, members or any other person (such as visitors to its websites or others).

For the purposes of this Policy, personal Information is information about an individual that directly or indirectly identifies the individual. In some situations, Premium TPATS Inc. may also collect personal information from third parties, without the consent of the individual, if it has a substantial and legitimate interest in doing so and (a) the collection is in the individual's best interests and it is not possible to collect it from the individual in a timely manner, or (b) if such collection is necessary to ensure the accuracy of the information.

This collection through third parties may be necessary to use certain services or programs, or to otherwise do business with Premium TPATS Inc. When required, Premium TPATS Inc. will obtain consent from the individual at the appropriate time.

For example, these service providers may include event organizers, subcontractors of Premium TPATS Inc. designated to carry out mandates in programs administered by Premium TPATS Inc. and cloud service providers.

In these cases, Premium TPATS Inc. must have written contracts with these suppliers that indicate the measures they must take to ensure the confidentiality of the personal information disclosed, that the use of this information is only for the purpose of performing the contract and that they may not retain this information after the contract has expired. In addition, these contracts must provide that suppliers must notify Premium TPATS Inc.'s Privacy Officer (identified in this policy) of any breach or attempted breach of confidentiality obligations regarding the personal information disclosed and must allow the Privacy Officer to conduct any audit related to such confidentiality.
